

Article extrait de : VINTAGES – February 2018

Rising-Star Regions

Château Lagrange – 2013 – Lussac Saint-Emilion

CHÂTEAU LAGRANGE 2013 AC Lussac-Saint-Émilion (Famille Courrech, exploitante)

Though many people only associate Bordeaux with the exclusive, exquisite cru wines for which it is world-renowned, the simple fact is the vast majority of wine produced in this iconic region is as affordable as it is good. Some of the best values to be found in Bordeaux come from the satellite regions such as Lussac-Saint-Émilion. These areas, just outside of the principal regions, deliver amazing value and quality while offering delicious hints at the greatness of the superstar wines. Most of us will never be able to taste the giants of Bordeaux, but wines such as this offering from Château Lagrange provide a flavourful, satisfying window into this historic region.

Medium-bodied & Fruity

230391 (XD) 750 mL $19.95

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2018 VINTAGES 35

