★★★ Exceptional    ★★☆☆ Excellent    ★☆☆ Very Good

FROM LEFT: Las Perdices Malbec 2018, Boniperti Vignaioli Rosa di Sera Vino Rosato, Tenuta Iuzzolini Cirò Rosso Classico 2017, Château Moulinat 2018, Lumos Logsdon Ridge Vineyard Pinot Gris 2017 (Stacy Zarin Goldberg for The Washington Post)

Here are five wines to try this week, including three to stock up on before potential U.S. tariffs on European wines and other products take effect. We include a fascinating rosato from northern Italy and a savory rosso from the southern end of the boot, along with a delicious bordeaux. From the New World, we have a delicious malbec from Argentina and a racy pinot gris from Oregon.

Château Moulinat 2018

Bordeaux, France, $15

Classic bordeaux, with black currant and blackberry fruit and a hint of pencil shavings or graphite. Here's a great wine to have on hand for steaks, burgers and other casual foods — your weeknight bordeaux. ABV: 13.5 percent.

Imported by Wine Circle, distributed by Le Storie: Available in the District at Ace Beverage, Wagshal's Market, Wardman Wines. Available in Virginia at Beer Run and Wine Warehouse in Charlottesville, the Brew Shop in Arlington, Department of Beer & Wine in Alexandria, Dominion Wine and Beer in Falls Church, Norm's Beer & Wine and Vienna Vintner in Vienna, Oakton Wine Shop in Oakton, Unwined (Alexandria, Belleview), the Wine Attic in Clifton.

*Availability information is based on distributor records. Wines might not be in stock at every listed store and might be sold at additional stores. Prices are approximate.
